

Client Privacy Statement

RELIANT, we know how important the confidentiality of our client's information and other stakeholders is. We continually reaffirm our commitment to maintaining the confidentiality of the information shared by our clients and other stakeholders.

In this regard, we are committed to:

1. Maintain full confidentiality of the information shared with our clients during our participation in the project and for as long as stated in our client's policies, procedures, and/or standards.
2. At the beginning of any contract, we shall store our client's business information, such as telephone number, email address, physical address, and others necessary for performing our operations.
3. RELIANT will only use the information of the services provided to add it to our services portfolio for presenting to new tenders. Always maintaining the confidentiality established by our clients.
4. When we are required information by the government, RELIANT will share the information requested. Always maintaining the confidentiality established by our clients and respecting the commitments assumed in our service contracts.

By providing personal information to RELIANT, you are aware of our privacy statement and agree to the items mentioned above. This Privacy Statement shall be available to all our stakeholders, who shall have the right to ask how their information is processed.

For further information or to exercise any of these rights, please do not hesitate to contact our Strategy and Business Development Department in the email info@reliantmining.com.
